NOTICE OF PLAINTIFFS'
MOTION TO EXCLUDE
THE TESTIMONY OF
DRS. DAVID SCHWARTZ,
DAVID KATZ, LEE-JEN
WEI, MINDY KURZER,
RICHARD GOODMAN, AND DAVID GORTLER

Plaintiffs Federal Trade Commission and the People of the State of New York, by Letitia James, Attorney General of the State of New York, move this Court under Federal Rules of Evidence 402, 403, 702, and Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993) for an order excluding testimony, including reliance on, references to, or arguments based upon the testimony or expert reports, of:

- 1) Drs. David Schwartz, David Katz, and Lee-Jen Wei relating to U.S. Food and Drug Administration ("FDA") law, regulations, and guidance concerning drugs and dietary supplements; Federal Trade Commission law and guidance; actions taken by FDA with respect to the drug Aduhelm; actions taken by other dietary supplement marketers; and the appropriate legal standard that applies in this case;

- 2) Dr. Katz relating to a re-analysis of Defendants' Madison Memory Study using the seemingly unrelated regression econometric model;
- 3) Dr. Wei relating to the statistical analysis and results of the Madison Memory Study;
- 4) Dr. Mindy Kurzer relating to opinions regarding cognition and memory, and her alternative analysis of the Madison Memory Study;
- 5) Dr. Richard Goodman relating to mechanisms of action for various compounds and potential mechanisms of action for Prevagen;
- 6) Dr. David Gortler relating to mechanisms of action for various compounds, potential mechanisms of action for Prevagen, FDA requirements, calcium's role in memory and Alzheimer's disease, and the Madison Memory Study;
- 7) Drs. Kurzer, Schwartz, and Katz relating to potential mechanisms of action for Prevagen;. and
- 8) Drs. Gortler, Kurzer, Schwartz, and Katz relating to the safety of Prevagen.

The motion is based on the ground that these purported experts' opinions and testimony are inadmissible because they are outside the scope of their expertise, irrelevant to the matters at issue in this litigation, or constitute legal opinions, or their probative value is outweighed by a danger of unfair prejudice, confusing the issues, misleading the jury, undue delay, and wasting time.
